Globalization and its socio-economic consequences is an international scientific conference, thematically focused on the process of globalization and its impact on the economic, social and cultural life of human society. Its main aim is the cooperation with domestic and foreign educational and scientific-research institutions to present and transfer the newest knowledge in the relevant field. The conference has gained an excellent renown and that is the reason why outstanding Slovak and foreign experts in their fields take part in it.

The requirement of publishing the paper is its originality, its contribution to the theory, presentation of empirical knowledge or model solutions of the given issue both at home and abroad. The 20th volume of the conference addresses and focuses on following fundamental issues:

1. Global Impact of COVID 19 on Economy and Society
2. Behavioral Economics and Decision-Making
3. Financial Management and Financial Markets
4. Innovation and Investment on Industry 4.0
5. Collaborative Economics, Digital Platforms and Multimedia
6. Corporate Social Responsibility and Consumer Claims
7. Regions and Economic Resilience
8. Economic Sustainability
9. International Relations and Globalization
