ABSTRACT. Among the many retained historical information, The CPC's archives show their unique value because of their original and authentic nature. The CPC's history archives are used to tell the red story, spread the red culture and highlight the unique advantages of retained historical information. In the one hundred birthday of CPC, test training base in the camp salute an archives exhibition tributing to CPC centennial. The archives exhibition expands the scope of publicity, restores historical information, and highlights the role of archives in education, communication and sharing.

1 Introduction

Xi Jinping point out, history is the best textbook, but also the best sober up.[1]In order to give full play to the unique role of retained historical information in recording the struggle process, inspiring the original mission, serving major decisions, and benefiting the officers and soldiers, the archive room of the test and training base innovates the working mode, deeply excavates the archival resources of the CPC's history, awakens archival memory, and combines the actual collection to create a series of exhibitions "Archives Pay Tribute to the Centenary of CPC's Founding". We will dig, make good use of and publicize the Party history archives.

On the occasion of warmly celebrating the centenary of CPC's founding and the whole Party carrying out the study and education of Party history, the Experimental training Base earnestly implements Xi Jinping's important speech on "protecting, managing and utilizing the Party's history resources with heart and emotion". [2] Starting from June 9, 2021, held a week-long salute "file CPC was founded in one hundred" as the theme of the 14th international archives day series of publicity and education activities, to show the history of the Chinese people's anti-japanese military and political university and base school photos, documents, documentary archives play base development, pursuit of Yan'an spirit, review base the glorious course of hard work, contribution and dedication, beaded into line, birthday gift.

2 Accurate topic selection to find new opportunities

It is an important and glorious political task to hold a series of exhibitions on the centenary of the founding of the Party, and it is also the initiative of the archive to give full play to its resource advantages and serve the overall situation. The exhibition tributing to CPC centennial has rich content support. It is necessary to make great efforts in form design, venue exhibition line and exhibition experience, and strive to build a profound and well-made archival exhibition to meet the needs of all officers and soldiers to study Party history education [3].

2.1 Define the exhibition mission

When studying the tasks of the current year, the archives of the experimental and training base will define the exhibition theme according to the decision and deployment of the training base and the important commemorative activities or major events of the current year. The year 2021 is the centennial of our Party. The archive room of the base combines the characteristics of military and political integration teaching of the base, and clearly defines the mission of the exhibition to commemorate the centennial of the founding of the Communist Party of China.

2.2 Stick to the theme of the exhibition

The theme is the soul and vitality of the exhibition. The year 2021 is the 100th anniversary of the founding of the Communist Party of China. The archives of the base determined that the theme of the exhibition in this year will be to commemorate the centennial of the founding of the Communist Party of China and pursue the spirit of resistance. The exhibition tributing to CPC centennial was held in the camp. The archives office prepared more than 300 photos and files for the exhibition.

2.3 Highlight typical meaning

The core competitiveness of archival exhibition is authenticity and authority, which is also the important value of archival exhibition. [4] In order to highlight the typical significance of the exhibition, in the selection of exhibits, the archive room of the base pays attention to the history as a miniature, the new era as the focus, highlighting time nodes and event nodes, and arranging photo files and text files. The base selected events and wonderful moments of the base in the past 40 years from 1978 to the present to make a documentary for broadcast. By means of audio-visual integration, the exhibition comprehensively shows the development process of the experimental training base.

3 Plan a new path carefully

The development history of Wang Qu and the school of Yan'an Resistance University have their own positioning and characteristics. The exhibition of archives themed to celebrate the centenary of the founding of the CPC is of limited time, huge size and unprecedented difficulty. Archives room staff and Party history, political theory teaching and research office teachers, propaganda cadres held many studies and discussions. The idea of archival exhibition arrangement is becoming clearer and clearer.

More than 100 pieces of base archives and historical materials, more than 200 pieces of Yanan anti-Japanese military and political University historical photos, contain the historical roots of our party. The exhibition combined "one Hundred years of Party history" with "Expression of The Times", and combine "Where did it come from" with "Where is it going? The exhibition helped officers and soldiers better understand their original mission and the Party's victory code. "Archives to the Centennial Theme Exhibition" at the Experimental training base highlights the double-line display. The exhibition shows the history of the school with the three guidelines of the school, and the development process of the base with the three aspects of Wangqu school. Relying on more than 300 pictures and video materials, the exhibition focuses on restoring history, arousing memories and arousing resonance.

4 Archives and exhibitions should be well organized to serve the officers and soldiers

The exhibition shows that the spirit of Yan 'an and the historical wisdom of the anti-Japanese Military and Political University have been gradually integrated into the historical imprint of the people of the base in the practice of the school running and development of the base since its restoration and establishment in the 1970s. Since the 1990s, Yan 'an anti-Japanese Military and Political University has left a trail of learning and experience for generations.

4.1 Select archival exhibits carefully

The archives room of the base contains many historical documents of the base, including the writings, letters, photos and other archives of the pioneering struggle of the older generation of Wangqu people. When arranging the exhibition, the archive room of the base carefully selects the treasures of the collection, fully combines the characteristics of linear reading of outdoor exhibition, selects more objects and pictures, and strives to tell a story with a photo and reflect an event with a document.

Combined with the training of "Yan 'an Spirit, resisting university and running a School", the base selected the documents and photos of the Cable Communication Technology School restored in 1978, the first generation projector used in audio-visual teaching in 1979, the blood letter of the students who graduated in 1986 to go to the front, and the photos of the signing ceremony of the National University of Defense Technology in 2017, which represent the key points of Wang Qu's development history, are selected for exhibition.

4.2 Open a new bureau through sincere cooperation

The high-quality archive exhibition embodies the painstaking efforts and efforts of all aspects of the military academies and bears the pursuit of archivists' unremitting efforts and service for the army. [5] The Archives office of the base actively strives for the strong support of the Archives of National University of Defense Technology. Nearly half of the precious historical materials are exhibited publicly for the first time, providing services for the deepening and truer education of Party history in the base.

The experimental and training base actively organized the backbone to participate in the whole process of manuscript writing, exhibition planning, historical data collection and content review, to ensure the safe exhibition of archival exhibits, and fully demonstrate the political responsibility of the archives.

5 Strengthen overall planning and coordination, archives exhibition achieved effective results

The series of activities, highlights the archives work "for the CPC management files, for war service for PLA guardian history," the responsibility of the mission, to expand international construction archives, influence and improve the file consciousness, improve the service ability is of great significance.

5.1 Expand the channels for serving officers and soldiers

Limited by the site, the archives of the base cannot hold the exhibition indoors. In the past three years, the base has held outdoor archives exhibition in the camp. While solving the site problem, the camp leisure space has been successfully transformed into a public education space, which has opened up an effective channel for inheriting the red culture, narrowed the distance between archives and the majority of teachers and staff, and made more officers and soldiers feel the charm of archives and accept the party history education [6].

In 2019, when the archives exhibition was held for the first time in the archives office of the base, the number of visitors increased sharply compared with other types of exhibitions before, and the awareness of archives was also significantly improved, which broadened the channels for archives to serve officers and soldiers. Next, the archives room of the base will hold an outdoor archives exhibition on "6.9 International Archives Day" every year. The content and theme will be set according to the theme of national Archives Day every year and the actual development of the unit, so as to ensure the exhibition space and improve the publicity effect.

5.2 Strengthen inter-departmental linkages

In the process of organizing the exhibition, the archive office of the base pays attention to strengthening the cooperation with other departments and highlighting the horizontal connection in the determination of the exhibition theme, the examination of the exhibition outline, and the publicity and reporting of the exhibition.

In 2021, in order to hold the "Archives to Centennial Exhibition", the archives office of the base cooperated with Yan 'an Learning Library, Political work Office, Political theory Teaching and Research office, etc., to make concerted efforts and brainstorm ideas to ensure the quality and effect of the exhibition. In 2019, in order to run the "Memory of the Base" well, the archives office cooperated with the history museum and information management center of the university to include the exhibition in the series of publicity activities of the base, which was well received by faculty and staff.

5.3 Obtain good exhibition benefits

The archives exhibition is an important means for the archives office to publicize the archives and the archives work to the faculty and staff, and to enhance the awareness of archives among officers and soldiers. It is also an important way to develop and utilize the archives resources and serve the construction of colleges and universities. In the past three years, the archives exhibitions held by the archives office of the base has a distinct theme, prominent characteristics of The Times, and a unique role in publicity and education.

6 Conclusion

Retained historical information record and preserve the practical process of revolution and construction led by the Communist Party of China. The base archives use the history archives to tell the story of the Communist Party of China, spread the culture of the Communist Party, and highlight the unique value of archives. The archival exhibition becomes a classroom to tell the history of the party, and a bridge to connect the past, the present and the future. In the new era, archivists dedicate officers and soldiers with exquisite works, and breed new opportunities.
