

Preface

It is a great pleasure to welcome you to the 11th International Conference on Humanity and Social Sciences (ICHSS 2025), hosted in the vibrant city of Fukuoka, Japan from January 10 to 12, 2025. This transnational assembly functioned as a platform for presentations and discussions about academic studies and a bridge to connect researchers from different countries to seek cooperation in the future. The conference provided chances for substantial exchanges of research ideas and opinions.

As we gather again for this prestigious event, we are excited to explore and discuss the latest advancements, innovations, and challenges in research. We believe that the importance of the analytical quality of results, the topics of increasing awareness and investigation and the highlight of prospect development should find their way in the realm of advanced research about social science and humanity.

This compilation of research papers showcases the latest advancements and discoveries in the Humanity and Social Sciences field. Each paper included in these proceedings underwent a rigorous peer-review process, ensuring that exceptional and innovative research finds its place in this collection. We would like to convey my appreciation to the technical reviewers and the editors for their consecutive efforts to maintain the quality of the manuscript. We would also like to express our gratitude to the session chairs, speakers, presenters and the organizing committee who helped make this conference a great success.

We hope that you find these conference proceedings insightful and inspiring. We look forward to significant development in further studies related to these topics. We extend our warmest thanks to all the authors for their valuable contributions.
